Dallas Holocaust and Human Rights Museum tells the story of the Holocaust, the emergence of international human rights following the war, and the development of human and civil rights in America. The Museum features unique and innovative technology and a permanent exhibition including four wings: Orientation, Holocaust/Shoah, Human Rights, and Pivot to America.

Explore the George W. Bush Presidential Library and Museum. Go inside the president’s decision-making process in the interactive Decision Points Theater and make sure you take your photo behind the president’s desk in a full-sized replica of the Oval Office.

See Dallas from a bird’s eye view at Reunion Tower GeO-Deck. The observation deck - 470 feet in the sky - includes an outdoor walkway and Halo, a digital information system that gives you the history behind Dallas’ famous landmarks and events.

Discover the Perot Museum of Nature and Science. The museum is home to one of the most impressive gem collections in the U.S. and a new dinosaur species recently discovered and only available for viewing in Dallas!

See elephants mingle alongside giraffes, zebras, ostriches, impalas and guineafowl, just as they do in the African Savanna, at the Dallas Zoo. The Dallas Zoo is one of two zoos in the world to have this type of exhibit.

SHARING, DALLAS STYLE

Step into the historic West End for lunch and hunt for souvenirs at Wild Bill’s Western Store. Need some cowboy boots? Bill himself may be around to fit you for a custom pair!

Treat yourself at NorthPark Center. The retail haven holds an impressive array of designer stores interspersed with retail favorites and luxury boutiques. Stop by CenterPark, the outdoor garden, for a breath of fresh air between stores or take a stroll to admire the museum-quality art on display throughout the space.

Visit the crown jewel of Dallas shopping, the flagship Neiman Marcus store, located Downtown, or the luxurious Forty Five Ten across the street.

Stop by Galleria Dallas and stroll through three levels of shopping for every budget. Take a break to visit the ice skating rink, open all year.

Visit Highland Park, one of Dallas’ most elite neighborhoods, and stop at the country’s first planned outdoor shopping center, Highland Park Village, for lunch and retail relaxation.

Stroll through Deep Ellum, Bishop Arts or the Design District for your pick of quirky finds and antique pieces in the neighborhoods’ vintage shops.

TASTE OF DALLAS

Discover the city’s best and most brazen margaritas as part of the Margarita Mile – a bucket list of margaritas across Dallas’ great neighborhoods, offered seasonally at margaritamiledallas.com. Get wowed by the tableside Liquid Nitrogen Margarita at Beto & Son or go classic with the Frozen Sunburst Margarita at Mariano’s Hacienda – the original birthplace of the frozen margarita machine!

Cross the Margaret Hunt Hill Bridge from Downtown into Trinity Groves. This trendy food destination features everything from barbecue and sushi to southern comfort food and burgers.

Head to Pecan Lodge in Deep Ellum for a bite of delicious Texas barbeque. Travel & Leisure magazine named Dallas a top city for barbeque in the U.S. and the daily line that forms outside this popular spot confirms that. Get there early!

Taste local lagers at one of Dallas’ microbreweries. Try Deep Ellum Brewing’s Dallas Blonde American Ale or choose from an impressive variety on tap. There are a few to stop by in the Design District, so take your time and make a stop at Peticolas Brewing Company, Bishop Cider Company or Community Beer Company.

FAMILY-FRIENDLY FUN

Bring the whole family for a picnic at the Dallas Arboretum and Botanical Garden. With 66 acres and 11 lush display gardens, the Dallas Arboretum offers seasonal color and floral festivals all year long.

Step back in time at Medieval Times Dinner & Tournament, a family dinner theater that features exciting sword fighting, jousting and horsemanship, as well as a four-course, medieval-style meal.

Get some fresh air at Klyde Warren Park. The urban park connects Downtown Dallas to Uptown and offers a full calendar of activities for locals and visitors, including live music, food trucks, fitness classes, games, a dog park and a children’s playground.

Watch the Dallas Mavericks compete for another championship and take a glance at the floor seats in the Mavs’ corner to spot Shark Tank star and team owner Mark Cuban cheering on his squad.

Make a trip to the rink at the American Airlines Center to watch the Dallas Stars hockey team. Since their arrival in 1993, the Stars have taken home the Stanley Cup and made consistent appearances in the NHL finals.
